

All Must Exist

All in life is music
Which we compose, play, sing, or hear.
The dance of the beat is our movement.
The melody of the song is our spirit.
The harmony and syncopation is our balance.

The balance of life is like
The balance in music.
It is always moving,
Always changing,
And never fully understood.

We must spiritually rise to the joy
And the height of the high notes,
And fall to the depth
And destruction of the low notes.
Without the low,
There would not be the high.
And therein lies the mystery of the melody:
For it to exist at all,
All must exist.
